I am very happy at school. I have a great teacher. Her name is Ms. Laura.
I have a nice classroom too and I have a lot of classmates.
I am very, very happy at school. I learn and play.
I want to be a teacher when I grow up because everybody's always nice to teachers.

Susy the dog

by: Ana Cristina Tapia Amaro
Once upon a time, there was a little dog. She was very lovely with her owners but her neighbors did not like her because she barked during the night and played a lot.
of tricks in their yards and houses. One day they yelled and threw rocks at her so she wouldn't go in their houses and stay at hers.
That night Susy began to hear weird noises. It was a thief who got into the bedroom next door. Susy didn't care. She was hit when she barked, so she bit the thief, who ran scared.
The neighbors and their kids hugged and kissed Susy the dog for her bravery.
How happy Susy felt because since then they accepted her in the neighbor’s houses and give her delicious snacks because she made the thief go away.

The Watch

by: Karina Garza Contreras
I once went to Adaylet’s house, my best friend, to do my homework. When we finished we got very excited because we decided to play a game called “Imitations”. This game is about putting on different kinds of dresses and jewelry to imitate different actors.
We were ready to start when suddenly Adaylet wanted to go to the bathroom. I was searching through all her stuff while she went, when this beautiful gold watch caught my attention.
I grabbed it so I could look at it closely, when it suddenly slipped out of my hands and hit the floor. I got really scared, so I just picked it up and hid it so that she wouldn't notice what had happened.
We kept on playing for a long time. Then she told me that she had a beautiful watch that she wanted to show me. I didn't know what to do. I started thinking, if I tell her she might get mad, if I don't, I'll feel bad for the rest of my life.
But I remembered that my mom always taught me that honest people are always going to be better people and that they are always going to succeed. So I told her what happened and all she did was look at me and tell me that it didn't matter, that our friendship was worth more than a watch.

THE CONSCIENCE

by: Sandra Guadalupe Castillo Vicencio
One day two little boys went to school and they talked about the delicious food they ate. A grandmother was behind them and she was talking with her dog.
The boy threw the banana and the grandmother slipped with the banana. She shouted, “Help me, please!”
Two girls from the primary school saw the grandmother and helped her. The grandmother was really scared.
The grandmother was angry and she pointed to the boy who threw the banana. The two girls that helped the grandmother, told them the importance of throwing trash in the trash can.
The two little boys understood that they had to throw trash in the trash can and avoid accidents. Maybe they listened to their conscience.

Days of rain

by: María Inés Anguiano Hernández
A big rain is coming, so all the animals of the forest are getting ready.
The birds put more sticks on the nest, ants are going up and down with food into the ant farm.
Two squirrels jump from one tree to the other to find a hole where they can protect themselves from the rain.
Some beautiful butterflies hide under the flowers. The rain lasts three days. During this time, the animals stay inside their homes.
When the rain goes away and the sun shines again in the blue sky, the animals come out and celebrate that the rain stopped.
Everyone is very happy to have a family and home to be in, on days with a storm.

Friendship in ants

by: Victor Manuel Isidro García
There is one type of ants that are hard workers. All day ants work. They live underground.
One day an ant wants to escape but sees a big and heavy rock on the exit to escape. She wants to move the rock and see her friends.
And she wants to tell her little brothers she can't escape. She waits for a long time. Then she sees her friends arrive.
She talks with her friends for a long time. Her friends help to move the rock and she is able to leave the jail.
This way she learns that friends can help you all the time. This is friendship.

Once upon a day in the deep sea lived Simbelin. She was a beautiful little fish with blue eyes and her color was pearl pink like a shell.
Everyday the little fish peeked her head out of the sea surface and dreamed of being a human. She began to mourn and submerged.
Then she thought that the sea was more beautiful on the surface. At the same time she was playing with her friends.
Yasmin was another little fish and Enrique was a beautiful dolphin. They were best friends. He was always funny and consoled his friend Yasmin.
But one day they were playing and the little fish peeked her face out of the sea surface and she saw a lot of garbage around her. It was polluting and killing her friends, but they didn't want to leave their homes.
Then she went to the surface again to see who was throwing trash in the water. She found a nice girl named Sasha, she could talk with animals.
She asked her, “What is going on?” Sasha answered, “I don't know but I will find a solution. I promise you”. Sasha said.
Then Sasha told people to stop throwing garbage in the water and she made a campaign to clean the beaches.
Now Sasha and Simbelin are best friends and the whole beach is clean and Simbelin and her friends lived happily ever after again.
The squirrels and the environment

by: Erika Nallely Cedillo Vázquez
On a certain day two squirrels found each other in the forest.
Sam: “Hello Susy! How are you?”
Susy: “I'm fine Sam, but sad because I couldn't find acorns.”
Sam: “Of course you won't find any, the trees are disappearing.”
Susy: “And some day we will too.”
Sam: “And all because humans do not care about nature.”
Susy: “They only think about the material and not about the clean air trees produce.”
Sam: “Human beings forget the natural environment is nature's biggest job.”
Susy: “It's true, that's why we should take care of it, and maintain it for everyone's sake and for the sake of all living beings that live on our planet.”
Sam: “Did you know that the destruction of the ozone layer, water contamination, soil erosion and petroleum spillage and other causes are destroying our planet?”
Susy: “Yes Sam, but we should be aware that these things are being caused by us.”
Sam: “You're right, because there are people who throw their trash on the street, knowing that they are contaminating the clean natural environment.”
Susy: “That's true.”
Sam: “Ok Susy, what do you think? Should we invite our friends not to throw their trash and maintain our natural environment clean?”
Susy: “Of course, and if they see an adult causing destruction, stop them and tell them not to cause destruction.”
Sam: “Good bye, take care of the natural environment!”
It's just a dream

by: Tania del Carmen Galván Villanueva
It's Monday and I can see myself next to the window of my room.

Suddenly I felt the need to express my feelings. I took out a sheet of paper and started to write.
My name is Tania and I'm writing this letter in case somebody in the future, finds it and does something about it. Don't make the same mistakes as us!
Our situation is desperate, our seas are completely contaminated, the same thing goes with rivers and lakes, there is no kind of life there. This is because of the toxic waste that we put in them.
The ground is completely sterile. It's the desert! We don't have any kind of animal or vegetable life. This happened because we cut down a lot of trees and our forests and jungles are disappearing.
And suddenly I was crying. Our cities are almost dead because of air contamination, this occurred because of the big amount of cars and factories. I recommend and hope that somebody reads this:

Do not contaminate, don't use a lot of cars, instead of that use collective buses and bicycles, and please, don't throw toxic waste in our seas!
I can imagine a thousand ways to help, but the most important thing is to love and care for our planet. We can invite people to begin the construction of a better world. I heard in the distance an alarm.

What's that?
And then I woke up.

A dream come true

by: David Rodríguez Hernández
In a place in the city lived a child. His name was Pepito. This boy did not have a family. He lived on the streets. He sometimes ate and sometimes he didn't. A dog was his friend. They always played. He was walking one day and he saw a hospital and he thought, “I want to be a doctor.”
But he knew it could not be. Pepito was very sad. Pepito's life was very sad on the streets. Why did Pepito smile? Because he thought that one day his dreams would become a reality. When he went to school he was the best student and he liked school.
His mother and father died. One day he saw a family in the park. He was sad and cried because he wanted to have a family too. That day a boy asked him why he was crying. They talked about Pepito's life. They became good friends. Pepito's friend advised him to go to an asylum. He went and since he became more intelligent than everybody in the asylum and was a good boy, he was soon adopted into a new family. His new parents were very proud because they had an excellent son now. Everyday Pepito studied hard because he wanted to be a doctor.
Pepito's dreams were near. Pepito studied and studied, always remembering the old days. Now he is very happy with his new parents. Now Pepito is a great doctor. He lives happy with his new job, working in a hospital.
